

BOYS PLAYING BASKETBALL

Such beauty in motion, so much energy.

Never ending.

Graceful.

Even aggressive, but always with beauty.

Bouncing, blocking, aiming for the goals.

Sweat comes, combatting though friendly.

Basketball, just a game, but one that delights two young men, cousins, Izac and Elijah.

Never ending are their efforts, showing their strengths.

Oh, to be young.

Much laughter.

Great joy.

Finally their energy begins to subside.

It's all coming to an end; all the activity, but only for a short period.

Time to be revitalised and back again.

For the moment, however, it's "let's call it a draw".
